Psalm 65:11 — "Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness"

As we stand at the threshold of another year—or look back upon the one that has passed—David's words in Psalm 65 lift our eyes to the God who sits enthroned above time, who orders the seasons, who governs every day we have lived.

When David says, "Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness," he is declaring something extraordinary. God Himself encircles, surrounds, and completes our year with His gracious favour. Even when we have not understood His ways. Even when the year has held trials…

Even when our path has been rough, God's goodness has been the crown over it all.

A year is not a random collection of events. It is a story God has written. And when He brings it to its end, He crowns it with His goodness—He seals it, finishes it, and marks it as His work. A crown is a symbol of glory. David is telling us that the glory of the year is not our accomplishments, our plans, or our strength. The glory of any year is the goodness of God displayed in our lives.

If there is a crown, there is a King! The year does not rule us—God rules the year.

Seasons do not direct us—God directs the seasons.

The future is not in the hands of uncertainty—it is in the hands of the King who crowns the year. The coming year is unknown to us—but fully known to Him.

If He has been faithful through all our yesterdays,

We can trust Him for all our tomorrows.

The calendar turns, the seasons change, and time marches on, but the goodness of God remains the constant crown over our lives.

Look back — and see His hand.
Look around — and see His mercy.
Look ahead — and see His promises.

"Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness."

May we walk into this year confident that the God who begins with goodness will also end with goodness—because His goodness never fails.

Thank you for your continued prayers and support for the work of God over another year.

The remarkable life of

TOM Geddis was the most remarkable Christian I have ever known. He was humble, despite his many gifts; gracious in his life; courteous in his manner; and generous to the needy, to the church, to missions, and to countless of God's servants around the world.

Tom was always industrious in his work, focused on his mission, and had a lot of humour into his life. In November 1966, Tom and Ethel went to Brazil. We were extremely blessed to have great colleagues and role models in what we called "the Acre family." Although Tom's passing means we are saying farewell to another colleague, their impact lives on through the ongoing work of our Acre missionaries, which has touched and transformed the lives of hundreds through the power of the Gospel.

The same motivations that inspired the apostle Paul were evident in the life of Dr. Tom Geddis: Tom was saved by grace, lived by faith, served by love, was sustained through his long illness by God's peace, and died in the blessed hope of the Gospel.

As a young boy, Tom trusted Jesus Christ as his Saviour at home. After studying at Methodist College in Belfast, he graduated in medicine from Queen's University. While at Queens in June 1954, news came of the sudden death of Ina Orr, the wife of missionary Fred Orr. Only 29 years old, Ina had died of a fever while travelling on a tributary in Brazil's Amazon. Her testimony had touched Tom while he was still a student, and her death motivated him to become a missionary.

Ethel Elliott caught Tom's eye while he was still in grammar school, and they became a couple when they were just 15 years old. Tom graduated from Queens in June 1958, and he and Ethel were married the following July.

With aspirations to go to Brazil, Tom developed many surgical skills and earned degrees in obstetrics and tropical medicine, which he used extensively to bless hundreds of patients. After completing his medical studies and gaining experience, Tom and Ethel sailed to Brazil with James and Dorrie Gunning in November 1966.

"The same motivations that inspired the apostle Paul were evident in the life of Dr Tom Geddis"

Tom's life was both amazing and amusing. He had a sharp sense of humour, but it often backfired on him. In November 1967, Audrey and I received a letter from Tom in which he teased us by jokingly writing, "We are living here with the field leader, and we have some inside information for you and Audrey. James has decided that he's going to send you both to a town called Tarauacá. It is the most westerly town in Brazil and is notorious for its violence and danger. It was said that some missionaries had gone there, but none had ever returned. We will be praying for you as you face this dangerous mission."

Two months later, Tom received an invitation to visit the Governor of Acre State at his palace in Rio Branco.

Tom and Ethel

The Governor, having learned that Tom was a medical doctor, asked if he would accept a contract to work in Acre. Tom hesitated and explained that although he was a doctor, he had not revalidated his qualifications. The governor assured Tom that they would cover everything. Sensing this could open a door for the Gospel for him and Ethel, he agreed to accept the government contract. To his surprise, the Governor then said, "We would like you to go to the town called Tarauacá!" This was the very town Tom had jokingly suggested we might be sent to.

Tom and Ethel moved to Tarauacá in March 1968. Initially, they did not attempt to establish a church. Instead, Tom focused on building a reputation by working diligently at an old health post and a dilapidated thirteen-bed hospital. The people of the town had never seen another doctor like him; he treated the sick, performed surgeries, delivered babies, and even created a makeshift contraption with ropes, weights, and pulleys to provide traction for an elderly woman who had broken her femur. Tom was both innovative and courageous. His medical work gained fame throughout the state and beyond, attracting people who travelled from the capital to consult him in Tarauacá.

Within months, Tom purchased an old house which held their first evangelical meetings. In addition to treating the sick in town, we travelled for weeks along the surrounding tributaries to evangelize and provide medical care. Missionaries from the New Tribes Mission came for consultations, and pilots from Missionary Aviation Fellowship often flew in sick Indigenous people for Tom's attention. Throughout this time, Ethel was busy with the children's ministry at the church and providing hospitality to visiting missionary patients. Tom's reputation and influence were such that when he and Ethel returned to Tarauacá from furlough, most of the town came out to welcome them at the airstrip. Even the Governor of Acre remarked that Tom received a better reception than he did. We could share many more amazing and amusing stories about Tom's accomplishments in Acre, but space does not allow for it.

Tom and Lucimar

Tom and Ethel continued their work in Tarauacá until June 1985. By that time, they had established a large church with an overflowing congregation. One individual who stayed by their side throughout those years was Lucimar. Ethel led her to Christ as a young girl and Lucimar learned a great deal from them.

Even after returning home, Tom made regular visits to Acre. However, after a few years, it became clear that Ethel had a terminal illness. She fought bravely until she completed her earthly journey and went to be with the Lord on January 22, 1999. Tom and Ethel were a great team, and the Health Post in Tarauacá is named in Ethel's memory and honour.

Tom remained a widower for the following nine years, during which he served as President of the Mission, making frequent visits to Brazil and representing the Mission locally. In 2001, he was honoured with an OBE by Her Majesty the Queen at Buckingham Palace.

After retiring from secular employment, his visits to Brazil became more frequent and lasted longer. During this time,

Tom and Lucimar fell in love, and they were married in July 2008 at the Immanuel Baptist Church in Rio Branco, Acre. Tom and Lucimar continued their evangelistic outreach in various schools and prisons in Acre until they eventually returned to Northern Ireland. Even while absent from Brazil, they continued to provide Bibles and Christian literature for schools and supported many Brazilian pastors.

The past few years were difficult for Tom. He suffered two separate falls in which he broke his femur. After surgery in 2023, he endured two and a half years of pain, suffering, and repeated infections. Nevertheless, Tom and Lucimar remained focused on the sovereign will of God.

Throughout their years together we admired Lucimar's devotion and love for her beloved Tom and the exceptional care she provided for him. After enduring prolonged weeks and months of increasing weakness, Tom passed away in the blessed hope of the Gospel of Jesus Christ on Sunday, November 9. He always wanted to be at church on Sundays, but this became impossible during his last year of life. However, on his last Sunday, he went to be in the house of the Lord forever.

On behalf of all his colleagues in Acre Gospel Mission and the many pastors and workers in Brazil, we express our sincere sympathy and condolences to Lucimar, assuring her of our continued love and prayers.

My encounter with

Jesus

I BELIEVE Jesus has always been with me and I believe that the Lord never leaves us even though we think He has abandoned us, even though we have abandoned him.

I was raised as a Roman Catholic, I went to catechesis, and I did my first communion. When my grandmother died, I was a teenager and I walked away from God, I left the catechesis and the RC church. I never wanted to have anything to do with religion anymore.

I went through teenage years doing crazy things as most teenagers do, but I rebelled and did many wrong things. Even in this state of mind, I finished my university degree in Social Communication. My life was full of ups and downs. I got pregnant and began to pray to the Lord but the way the Roman Catholics do. I was told my wee daughter could have the Edwards Syndrome, a very rare disease and she could die even before being born.

I asked so much God to help…and He did : she is now 16 years old and healthy and beautiful.

But my encounter with Jesus came later, even though He had answered my prayers. I had always had negative thoughts, a pessimistic attitude, lots of fears, difficulties in sleeping, insecurity and traumas to heal.

I remember that one day, after I had spoken with a childhood friend whom I had not spoken with for many years , I asked her to pray with me to get rid of my "night monsters" and that night I felt asleep listening to a lovely praise song. This was the start of the journey that took me to the Saviour. The praise song was saying :"Quiet your soul, Let your heart listen to His voice". And the Lord did it. My anxiety started to diminish and I started to sleep well.

This praise song gave me the willingness to know more about other praise songs and these praise songs made me want to know more about Jesus. And this curiosity made me want to have a relationship with Jesus.

I went to an Evangelical church in Cascais (north Lisbon) with my cousin . There I heard another praise song "The Victory Is Yours !" and this song changed my life because then I really wanted an

"I asked so much God to help...and He did" encounter with Jesus.

I started to go to the Evangelical Church of Santo André where Pastor Aroldo welcomed me with open arms. He started to point me to Jesus with lots of patience as I asked MANY questions, about God and many other topics, as any new saved person would do. I gave my life to the Lord but I still have many questions and doubts but the Lord is working in my life and my good relationship with Him is growing day by day.

I was baptized on the 25th of September, 2022. This is one of the greatest days of my life, the day I told the world I had received Jesus as my Lord and Saviour. It is such a great feeling, it is hard to describe the great peace I felt in my heart on that day. And this is this peace I want to feel every day.

I am now a happier person who has Jesus in her life. Yet the battles continue, but as He says: "In this world you will have trouble. But He adds

" But take heart! I have overcome the world" (John 16:33).

Therefore, even though there are many trials, I know I am not alone and I have His word to encourage me. I can do all this through him who gives me strength." Philippians 4:13

Marisa is Portuguese and started to come on a regular basis during Covid time.

She has a great testimony on how the Lord saved her. One of her current battle is to see her family saved. Nobody is saved from her close family (neither her husband, nor his or her parents).

Her daughter goes to the Young People Club every Friday evening but is not saved.

Pray with Marisa so that she would see her family saved.

Pray for the Portuguese people and their need of salvation.

Thankful for the open door...

Psalm 106:1
"Praise ye the lord. O Give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good: for His mercy endureth forever"

WE would like to take the opportunity to say a big thank you for your continued prayers and support for the work in the schools here in Manaus.

Each Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday we continue to teach in the Benicio Leão and Trigueiro Schools.

We are very grateful to the Lord for this open door. Many schools are now no longer allowing the teaching of God's Word. Our desire is that the Lord continues to give us the health and strength for the work.

In most of the classrooms in the Benicio Leão school we encounter autism in a number of the children.

These children are accompanied by a teacher and they pay great attention to the teaching of God's Word.

Many of you have prayed for our ministry for many years and we want to sincerely thank you.

Please pray for Eliana's health.

Pray for the salvation of the children in the schools.

Pray that the door will be kept open into the schools.

Pray for the salvation of the teachers.

Serving the Lord in

Lajes Pintadas, North East Brazil

Grace and Peace to our beloved brothers and sisters!

WE are serving the Lord at the Baptist Congregation of Lajes Pintadas.

I want to give a brief history of the last three months of work, reflecting an overview of what we are developing here.

Recently we held a conference to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the church's construction. Pastor Marcelo Alex preached, and we had the participation of several churches (Campo Redondo, Malhada Vermelha, Santa Cruz, and Serra do Doutor). We also had a good. Number of visitors attending.

Every month, during the first week, we hold a week of prayer. The goal is to develop the habit of group prayer and intercession for one another.

We are also conducting evangelistic work, distributing leaflets and visiting unbelievers to share the gospel with them. I am grateful for everyone's receptiveness. However, hardness of heart creates a great barrier to salvation! Despite the hardness of our hearts, the Lord has honored us through the conversion of young Kellison, who is with us. Pray for his spiritual growth.

Monthly, we hold evangelistic programs and public worship services and work with children, both in our home.

Regarding our family, I ask for your prayers for our health. Lately, we have been facing some difficulties in this area. We need to have some tests done and we are counting on divine providence.

I want to conclude this brief report by once again thanking you for your prayers and continued support for the Pastors here in Brazil.

"Praise the Lord, for he is good; his love endures forever." Psalm 118:1.

I fled Ukraine and found refuge in Portugal

MY name is Serhii Antypenko, and I'm from the city of Chernihiv in northern Ukraine. I fled with my family to Portugal when the war broke out in 2022 - My wife, Olya, our eight-year-old daughter, my mother, and two grandmothers all ended up in the Algarve — about 4,000 km away from our homeland — probably the furthest possible place we could be in Europe from home.

The reason we chose Portugal was because I have an uncle who has been living in the city of Loulé (Algarve) for more than 25 years. Being the only relative we had outside of Ukraine, it was our only hope of refuge. Those were incredibly difficult times, and the memories of fleeing the bombs and the advancing Russian army are still painful. Portugal became our only hope of survival. We had to leave everything behind and begin to rebuild our lives in a foreign land. Three and a half years on, and with each passing day we begin to feel that Portugal is our home.

I became a Christian when I was 16 years old after coming across a Bible my mother had been given many years earlier. My family were all nominal Orthodox Christians but had no understanding of what it truly meant to be a follower of Jesus. From an early age, I was convinced of the existence of God, but I knew nothing about having a personal relationship with Him. When I began reading the Bible, I couldn't put it down — I devoured it from cover to cover. Without anyone explaining it to me, simply through reading, I came to understand that I was a sinner who needed to repent of my sins and trust Jesus as my Saviour, which I did before ever stepping inside a church.

After giving my life to the Lord, I sought out other Christians for fellowship and immediately began serving God in that context. I loved studying the Bible and sharing it with others, evangelizing my friends. Some were willing to listen, while others thought I had gone crazy. From the moment I became a Christian, I felt God calling me to go deeper into His Word, and He opened the door for me to study theology at a Bible school in Kiev. After finishing my studies, I began serving as an assistant pastor in a new youth church in my city. At that point, I thought I would spend the rest of my life serving God in Ukraine. Little did I know that within a few weeks, my whole world would be turned upside down.

When we fled to Portugal, I thought my ministry was over. I couldn't imagine how I could possibly continue serving God so far away from home.

As soon as I arrived in Portugal, I searched online for Ukrainian churches but couldn't find any. However, I did find the International Evangelical Church of the Algarve (IECA) and decided to visit on my very first Sunday in Portugal. Incredibly, not only did I feel immediately at home there, but I also met many other Ukrainians who were refugees like me, and I quickly connected with them.

I found a job locally as a gardener to support my family, though I always longed to serve God by teaching His Word. At that time, there was no specific ministry for the Slavic community at IECA, so in my free time, I felt compelled by God to begin leading Bible studies and organizing fellowship gatherings for the Slavic members of our church. Over time, the group began to grow, and the leadership of IECA recognized the need for a full-time Slavic pastor. I was asked to leave my job and join the ministry team full-time.

"...our desire is to encourage those in our care to go deeper into God's Word..."

This was an incredible confirmation of God's calling on my life — to continue teaching His Word to my own people, though in a place I never imagined. I have now been pastoring the Slavic group for three years, and it has been amazing to see all that God has done.

The church began a special fund to help refugees arriving from Ukraine. Through it, we were able to rent a house to provide free accommodation, food, and clothing for new arrivals as they found their feet and adjusted to life in Portugal. My initial role was to oversee this ministry and help refugees integrate into their new surroundings. Most of the refugees were women with small children, and over the past two years, more than 60 people have benefited from this support.

Today, our Slavic group includes not only Ukrainians but also Latvians, Belarusians, and even Russians. It is certainly a challenge to pastor such a diverse group, but my wife and I count it a great privilege and blessing to serve God in this way — providing spiritual nourishment and emotional and psychological support to those who have lost so much.

We would greatly appreciate your prayers as we continue to encourage one another and help refugees integrate into a new life in Portugal. It is especially difficult for the children, who must learn a new language and study in Portuguese. We thank God for the opportunity to serve alongside Mark and Judith, Barry and Raquel, and Glenn. We work as one team with various ministries connected to different language groups.

As we look to the future, our desire is to encourage those in our care to go deeper into God's Word and to live lives that honour Him here in Portugal. We believe in the sovereignty of God and trust that, despite our suffering, He has a good purpose in placing us in this part of the world.

Thank you for standing with us in prayer.

Opening hearts in Tenerife

WE'VE been missionaries with Acre since February 2025 and since then we and many others have had the feeling that God is moving here, opening hearts, bringing new ministries, giving us so many opportunities and working among his people.

We appreciate all your prayers so much and we feel their effectiveness here. We're seeing people coming to Jesus, lives being changed by His grace and people and churches growing.

Over summer we had holiday bible club, kids camp and youth camp which were all a time of blessing and learning.

On the 21st of September we had a commissioning service to welcome David as part time pastor in La Cuesta church and we've been serving there more intensely since then. Meeting with all the attendees, getting to know the people on a deeper level and talking with all the leaders.

The church is going through a period of transition because around 6 months ago it came under the guidance of a missional group called 3|16 which consists of some missionaries from Germany and other church workers here. Before their arrival the church was very inward-looking, there wasn't much outreach into the community or thought of having evangelistic meetings but now we're reforming the vision of the church to reach as many people as possible through:

"Over summer we had holiday bible club, kids camp and youth camp which were all a time of blessing and learning."

1 - applying the gospel
2 - showing grace and
3 - having a missional mindset.

On the 2nd of November we had our first evangelistic event in a rural house in the north of Tenerife. We had music, food, a gospel message and 10 baptisms. Over 200 people came and around 30%-40% were not christians. We had pastors and leaders to talk to people with questions and a further 4 people showed interest in being baptised. In a few months we will hold another event like this.

- Please pray for local church growth, that the people in leadership positions can reach the stage where they are able to disciple and care for other people.

- Pray that God would continue to touch people's hearts in Tenerife, bringing them to the truth of the gospel

- Continue to pray for our project Verdes Pastos, we are raising money to be able to buy a property to do youth camps, retreats and evangelistic events. We've raised €16,000 so far and although we've been focused on pastoring the church these days, God continues to place the need for youth camps and young people on our hearts.

THANK YOU SO MUCH FOR SUPPORTING US AND ALLOWING US TO BE PART OF THE ACRE FAMILY.

Your labour is not in vain...

"For from him and through him and to him are all things. To him be the glory forever! Amen." Romans 11:36

Greetings in Christ! With joy we share a little of what the Lord has been doing among us during this period. And we are grateful for your prayers, surely God has heard.

Weekly Schedules

• Sunday:

At Sunday School, at 9:30 am, we have been studying the Bible chronologically since we arrived, using a very well-developed material from the New Tribes Mission of Brazil, called Firm Foundations. In the evening, we have our service at 7 pm, where we are studying the Gospel of John in an expository way.

• Tuesday:

Prayer and doctrine service. On this occasion,

"We continue to trust in Him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine."

we have been studying basic theology; up to this point, we have already seen Bibliology, Theology, and, last Tuesday, we finished Christology. In the second part of the service, we dedicate ourselves to prayer for the church and families.

• Thursday:

We recently started a discipleship group. We have some brothers who are candidates for baptism and others who wish to become members, although there are still some cases that need to be followed up more carefully. We ask for prayers for wisdom and guidance from the Lord in these processes.

• Friday:

On Friday and Tuesday afternoons, we clean the building and the annex. Some brothers have been willing to help, and this time has also been one of fellowship and service.

• Saturday:

We have been developing the Children's Bible Club. This work has been a challenge, especially because of the children's irregularity, but we remain steadfast. Recently, we were able to acquire tables and chairs for the younger children—before, they watched the lesson and did the activities on the floor. We gathered the brothers and sisters, presented the need, and with everyone's contribution, the Lord answered our prayer and blessed us with this resource.

We praise God for this!

Plans and Prayer Requests

• We are organizing the baptism of some brothers and sisters for the month of January — please pray for this.

Our prayer requests:

◦ We ask that God save people in our city;

◦ For wisdom and discernment in leading the church;

◦ For the spiritual growth and maturity of the brothers and sisters;

◦ I ask for prayer for the life and health of my wife Adrielly and our son Héctor.

◦ we have a project to teach music and recorder to the children in 2026.

We continue to trust in Him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine.

"Therefore, my dear brothers and sisters, stand firm. Let nothing move you. Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Lord, because you know that your labor in the Lord is not in vain." — 1 Corinthians 15:58.
